The Daily Byte

Hi there,

We wanted to check in on your progress so far. You missed the second topic email introducing the fundamentals of Hash Maps and solutions walking you last week's problems. Starting tomorrow we will be focusing on Linked Lists, if you are interested in receiving the introductory email along with all the solutions you can sign up for a paid plan here. One other small thing we'd like to mention is if you sign up for a paid plan now, you will receive the solutions for the problems you have already seen up to this point. If you had trouble with any of the previous questions, now is the perfect time to upgrade!

As always, we hope you are enjoying the service and that we are making a meaningful impact in helping you get the job you are looking for. If you have any feedback or questions for us you are always welcome to reach out.

Thanks,
The Daily Byte
